JAMESON ON TRIAL

Daring Leadership of the British Adventurer.

ITALIAN SOCIALISTS IN ROME

Debut of the Rudini Ministry Before the Deputies.

ASTOR APOLOGIZES

LONDON, March 17.—The examination of Dr. L. S. Jameson, the ruler of the Transvaal, and his fourteen companions, charged, under the foreign enlistment act, with "warring on a friendly state," was resumed today at the Bow street police court before Sir John Bridge, the chief magistrate. The usual judge through was present and the court was crowded. Seated on the bench near the magistrate were the Marquess of Londonderry, the Duke of Abercorn, chairman of the British Chartered South African Company, and Ladies Knutsford, Cuffe, Hartland, Biddulph, Shaw-Lefevre, Rayleigh and Cranbourne, the Countess of Coventry, Mrs. Henry Asquith and a number of other ladies of high position in society. The first witness called today was Sgt. Ruck of the Matabeleland Mounted Police. He testified, in substance, that in June 1900 he was present at the house of the force were told that they were bound for Johannesburg, and would be compelled to fight. He then testified that he went to that place. Continuing, the witness described in details the evils of the march in December, the arrest of the young leader, Henry, and the capture of the party to return across the border, and the firing of the Boers, at midnight the same day, on the Jameson party.

Beginning of the Fight.

This, Sgt. Ruck asserted, was the first intimation they had of the presence of the Boers in their proximity. The fire, he added, was returned, and the Boers fled.

On January 1, witness also said, the Jameson party encountered sixty or seventy Boers. The latter opened fire upon the Jameson column; the fire was again returned, and the Boers retired. Great numbers of Krugersdorp, followed by the troops.

Trooper Hill, also of the Matabeleland mounted police, then took the stand, and testified to hearing Dr. Jameson making a speech at Pitsani to the men who were to be sent to the front. According to Hill, Dr. Jameson told the troops they were going to Johannesburg in order to protect the English women and children.
Jameson, the witness also testified, said he hoped they would be no fighting; but if it came, he hoped the column would reach Johannesburg before the Boers had time to collect.

This witness further testified that Dr.
Jameson assured the troops that "if it comes to a fight, the Cape mounted rifles and the matabele police will assist you." Dr. Jameson said, according to Trooper Hill, continuing his remarks to the troops that the Cape mounted rifles and the matabele police would be collected on the way to Johannesburg, and added that the column might be joined by the Bechuanaland border police.

A Mysterious Letter.

Replying to a question, the witness said that Dr. Jameson, while addressing the troopers, referred frequently to a letter which he held in his hand, and which appeared to contain instructions as to the conduct of the expedition.

Under the name of the military commander of the expedition, Trooper Hill said, also made a speech to the men on the same lines as the remarks of Dr. Jameson.
The witness also testified that he hoped the troops would be able to reach

THE RUDINI CABINET.

Feverish Feeling Over the Abyssinian Situation.

ROME, March 17.—The authorities have taken precautions to guard against disorder today. The government has ordered that all public buildings be again kept closed, and the troops will be kept confined to barracks until the new cabinet has made its debut and all danger of rioting has passed. The authorities assert that these precautions are nothing more than usual on similar occasions; but the gathering about the chamber of deputies previous to the assembling of that body was sufficiently large and excited enough to justify the precautions taken.

It is reported that the new cabinet will ask for a credit of 100,000,000 lire to carry on the campaign, and there is reason to believe that the money will be voted, although opposition to further campaigning is expected. The cabinet is expected to be created a diversion by a movement of British-Egyptian troops up to the Nile and towards Dongola, gradually causing public opinion to understand that the British policy is to support the Egyptian government against Abyssinia.

It is now again beginning to feel herself powerful in the support of her allies and capable of gathering about her a number of allies.
Inquiries made at the Russian legation have failed, up to the present, to either obtain any definite information or to secure the decorating of the Negus by the czar, and equal ignorance is expressed in regard to the rumor that Abyssinia has asked Russia to take the lead in bringing about the re-establishment of peace on the basis of the independence of Abyssinia, and the restoration of the old frontiers of Erythraea.

Rudini's Speech.

The entry of the new ministers into the chamber of deputies was greeted with loud applause from their supporters. The premier, Marquis di Rudini, made a statement in regard to the battle of Adowa. He said that after the defeat the cabinet had accepted resolutions leaving Gen. Baldissera free to take proper measures to meet the emergency, including the sending of aid and Kassala, if such measures should be deemed expedient. On March 8, the premier announced that the cabinet was instructed to treat for peace on the best terms obtainable, and the premier assured the house the present cabinet would continue the peace negotiations with prudence and dignity.

ASTOR AND LADY SOMERSET.

The American Will Pay All Costs and Make Amends.

LONDON, March 17.—The Evening News this afternoon reported that the offer for $25,000 damages for libel sought by the Lady Henry Somerset against Mr. William Waldorf Astor, as proprietor of the Pall Mall Gazette, had been settled out of court. It is added that Mr. Astor will apologize to the Lady Somerset, and that the Pall Mall Gazette and twenty other papers will pay the costs.

The libel complaint grew out of the effort made by Lady Henry Somerset to reform the notorious drunkard, Jane Cake-bread, who has been convicted hundreds of times.

ASSESSMENTS OF BENEFITS

Court of Appeals Holds Them to Be Unconstitutional.

Judge Cox's Decision in the Van Rieswick Case Upheld—An Interesting Opinion.

The Court of Appeals this afternoon affirmed the decision of Judge Cox in the case of the Van Rie swick heirs against the Rock Creek Park commission, holding that the court below rightly enjoined the commissioners from levying an assessment on certain lands adjoining the park for supposed benefits accruing to the lands from the location of the park.

The park, it will be remembered, was acquired by the United States under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 27, 1890, and the act further provided that the acquisition of the land embraced within the park, to make an assessment for special benefits on such property in the District as would be benefited by the location and improvement of the park, and assess the cost and expense of such improvements on the lands and blocks proportionately to such assessments to be liens on the property assessed and to be collected as taxes.

The commission proceeded to make the assessment, when the Van Rie swick heirs, assessing the cost of the improvements, and the Van Rie swick heirs, assailed the assessment, contending that the park was a public park, and that the assessment was unconstitutional, and that the commission was not authorized to make such an assessment.

The Court's Opinion.

The opinion of the Court of Appeals was written by Mr. Justice Morris, and after deciding that the court below (the Equity Court) had jurisdiction the justice lays down as a fundamental principle that "one man cannot be taxed more in proportion than another."

"Whether taxation by way of special assessment is free from the objection of want of uniformity is open to grave doubt," says the court, and further, "With all due respect to the public sentiment in favor of the great preponderance of judicial decision, by which it has been sustained, we are disposed to think that a system, to compel a large part of the public to pay for a benefit which exists in our country, and which leads to a result so absurd as that evidenced in the act of Congress, is not warranted by the Constitution."

Held to Be Absurd.

Justice Morris, speaking for the court, of course, then goes on to say that if any part of the cost may be specially assessed, the whole may be. "Indeed," he says, "in the very case before us it is sought to cast the whole and entire cost of the enterprise upon the adjoining owners, and the cost of the park is to be borne by the adjoining owners, and the cost of the park is to be borne by the adjoining owners."
